Don't need poll tax but 15 pay it anyway

"As we understand it, the poll tax is not required by law," the attorney-general's office said Wednesday but Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., said he did a brisk business collecting them to prospective candidates in this year's county-wide elections.

A spokesman for Attorney-General Joe T. Patterson was quoted by the Sea Coast Echo as saying that the state's failure to pay the tax, the only one he could foresee, he said, "would be of a political nature."

The confusion arose from two differing opinions from Patterson's office on tax poll requirements. With the Feb. 1 deadline less than a week away, 15 political hopefuls paid their taxes Wednesday morning, just to be on the safe side.

Ladner used a black receipt book left over from last year and hoped it would hold out until the matter was clarified. Since the federal courts last

Nereids parade Sunday

The Town of Waveland will stage a Carnival air Sunday when the Krewe of Nereids stages its first annual Mardi Gras parade.

Starting at 2 p.m., the parade will wind its way through town accompanied by five bands, two precision marching groups, a drill team and numerous floats.

The Krewe of Nereids alone will account for seven floats. The title float will lead five floats for court members and the queen's float.

Floats will be exchanged in front of Town Hall where King Nereus and his dukes will await the arrival of Queen Doris I, and her ladies.

Others in the official receiving party will include Mayor Garfield Ladner, the aldermen and their wives, and mayors from Piquette to Moss Point.

Mayor Ladner said he is very happy to have the affair in Waveland.

"These people have worked hard to accomplish what they have and deserve credit for producing one of the finest attractions Waveland has ever had. I would like to see it grow bigger and better each and every year. We are off to a good start," he said.

Hospital board in secret meet on 3-2 vote

Trustees of Hancock General Hospital upped their batting average on secret sessions again last Wednesday night, making it six at the last eight meetings.

Spectators and the press were locked out on the motion of Beat 5 Trustee T.T. Reboil when Mrs. Ben Morreale, a former hospital employee, asked to talk to the board.

The secret session motion was seconded by Clifton Sauter of Beat 3 and carried 3-2 when the board president, Joe K. Duckworth of Beat 1, broke a 2-2 tie. Opposed were John D. Rutherford and J.C. Mauffray, the two at-large trustees from Beat 4, did not vote. Hubert Thigpen of Beat 2 did not attend.

Charles Gottschalk, a citizen who protested the executive session motion at the December meeting, again objected but Reboil called for a vote on the question. Duckworth said he believed Mrs. Morreale came with a "personal matter about the hospital" and otherwise would oppose closing the doors.

Mrs. Morreale said she did not object to anyone hearing what she had to say. Her husband remained in the board room with her for better than 30 minutes.

Sy Rosenthal to be guest at gymnasium dedication

SY ROSENTHAL GYMNASIUM TO BE DEDICATED FEB. 5

Sy Rosenthal, widely known one-time Red Sox outfielder, a paralytic quadriplegic, will be the guest of honor Feb. 5 at St. Augustine Seminary for dedication of the new gym named for him.

Sy will arrive in New Orleans Feb. 2, 1961 and a former champion, William H. Gay of Fall River, Mass., will be for a day the guest of Auxiliary Bishop Harold R. Perry, S.V.D. of New Orleans at the bishop's residence. As a member of the Atlanta Crusaders of the disabled Southern Area, Sy and teammates lodged at the Monteleone Hotel in 1931-1933.

The Sy Rosenthal Memorial Gym is an outgrowth of unique friendship begun four years ago between Rosenthal and a Divine Word Missionary, Rev. Charles D. Burns of Greenville. Five years ago, an Irish family introducing a Negro priest to a Jew might have created a stir. James, Patricia and Loretta Sullivan, friends of Father Burns from Jamaica Plain, Mass., brought the Jewish ball-player and Negro priest together knowing that Sy's measure of a man is the individual's spirit and practice of Brotherhood. The practice of year-round Brotherhood has been a promotion of Sy Rosenthal long before the word "ecumenism" was uttered from segregated pulpits.

The lobby of the memorial gym will feature outstanding plaques, citations and awards that Sy has received during his lifetime. His charities are manifold, and extend to all races, and nationalities. The gift of himself to his country however, eclipses all of Sy's financial assistance to others.

Confined to a wheel chair, he was paralyzed when his ship, USS Miantonomah, struck a mine off the French coast during the Normandy invasion. Sy, enlisted, though overage, after his son, Irvin "Buddy" Rosenthal, a member of the 1st Marine Division, was killed in 1943 during the invasion of New Britain. The dedication plaque also honors Irvin's patriotism.

Rosenthal is an active member of organizations, including the Jewish War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, DAV and Military Order of the Purple Heart. He was three times president of the New England Chapter of Paralyzed Veterans of America. Also he is a life member of the Massachusetts Dorchester Civic Club, Elks Club, Young Men's Christian Union and is a trustee of B'nai B'rith.

Bishop Joseph Brundage of Natchez-Jackson Diocese will officiate at the ceremonies together with Rev. John W. Bowman, provincial-superior of the Divine Word Missionary Southern Province, and Rev. John Ganser, rector of Divine Word Seminary of St. Augustine. Rabbi Rosenberg of Temple Sinai in New Orleans will give the closing benediction. Mayor John

Tigers, Tigerettes to snarl at Perkinston

Football to a frantic game. The smoke had barely cleared from Bay High's annual tournament that closed in a blaze of glory for the Tigros Saturday, when plans were under way for the Gulf Coast Conference tourney. This started last night in Perkinston Junior College gym.

It is probably the most important tournament of the season as winners will be the official conference champions, regardless of their conference win-loss record. Hancock North Central is defending champion in both boys' and girls' divisions.

Coch Wynny Seymour's Bay High Tigros, undefeated in the conference and with two tournament championships already ready cracked away this season, are odds-on favorites to make it three in a row.

In the girls' division, Somo to top seeded and figures to win but Billy Sills' Tigerettes are the dark horses and just might cap it all — they just missed winning the Bay High tourney.

Two girls' games are scheduled for Wednesday, Hancock Central vs. Pearl River Central and Pass Christian vs.

Smith reports on county road building jobs

Weather is the major factor involved in road construction in Hancock County, Highway Commissioner John D. Smith wrote the Chamber of Commerce this week in answer to a request for a status report.

Fair weather is sorely needed to complete work on U.S. 90 which is under construction from Bay St. Louis to the intersection of old Rt. 43, he said.

Work will go forward very rapidly on Interstate 10 from Mississippi Test Facility to Rt. 603 as soon as the weather is favorable, he continued. Clearing and grubbing on this job is almost complete. Other Interstate 10 work has been rather slow because of unfavorable weather conditions.

Work in progressing satisfactorily on construction of the Pearl River Bridge and there are 450 working days assigned to this project. Construction of the road from the bridge to Rt. 43 at the test site has been completed.

Friloux named to head east county firemen

Edward Friloux was named chief of the newly formed East Hancock County Volunteer Fire Department on Friday at their first annual elections session in St. John's Church Parish Hall.

Others elected were Charles John, president; Louis LaTour, vice president; George McCullough, secretary-treasurer; and Claude Myers, Jr., Marvin Ladner, John Dacote and Malcolm Green, committeemen.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold elections on Tuesday. On their agenda also is a discussion on the forthcoming benefit fair.

In one of his first moves after being appointed Friloux made general the number to call in case of fire. It is 467-5018. In an emergency and no reply to received a call to the Waveland Fire Dept. at 457-6154 will result in the immediate relay of information.

Three more fires were attended by the group over this last week. On Friday a fire at Lakeshore Road and Beach Boulevard took 20 minutes to bring under control as did a similar fire at Springwood Park and U.S. 90 on Sunday. Later Sunday afternoon a three square mile forest fire took three hours of frantic activity before being declared out. The volunteers were declared responsible for saving a house and other property. will conduct his operations to outdoor display and signs, for which his firm is the leading manufacturer in the New Orleans area, and the original motor division. He will continue to reside here with Mrs. Brigance.

The engineering division was moved to Bay St. Louis after the city's first industrial bond issues under the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board's Balance Agriculture with Industry program — carried by overwhelming odds in the late summer of 1961. That was when three months before NASA selected Mississippi Test Facility.

The plant was in operation in March, 1962, with a work force of about 100 people. Under the $300,000 BAWF bond issue, the company leased the premises from the city. A subsequent $115,000 loan was approved to expand the facility and industrial Enamel plant today employs more than 170 persons and has sales have almost doubled from the first year. The new owners will assume the lease-purchase contract with the city of Bay St. Louis.

Forcelain enamel manufacturing at the Bay St. Louis plant has gone to the far corners of the world. One customer served the Alaska coastline of 1954. Another was the Iron Curtain. First local delivery was for Lee Mowbray's New Standard Service Station.

Clint Walker said the new owners will maintain present operations and expand into production of building of porcelain enamel — such as in the oil industry and for other commercial uses.

Largely because of his role in moving industrial's manufacturing division to Bay St. Louis and the Mississippi Gulf Coast, Brigance was elected by Gulfport Mayor Sam Ricks in 1954 as Mayor. A recognition awarded center businessmen for their contribution to the development of the area's economy.

Clint Walker said negotiations for the purchase had been in progress since last summer. Sale price was undisclosed.

City's stars shoot high at Picayune

The Bay stars, known as Bay St. Louis' basketball team, traveled to Picayune Monday evening and defeated T & M Motors, 84-75, in the Y.M.C.A. gym.

T & M, rated one of the top independent teams in the area, held a slight advantage in the first half by controlling the rebound and led, 34-33, at halftime.

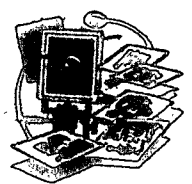

But in the second half, Bruce Cox and Stu Richards of the Stars got control of the rebound and, spurred by Leroy Lute's long range shooting, the Stars moved to a 5-point lead going into the final frame.

T & M closed the gap to 2 points midway in the fourth but the Stars' Sammy Allison found the basket repeatedly to lead his team to victory. They are now 9-1 for the season.

Allison had all quarters with 20 followed by Lute with 22, Cox 17, Richards 10 and Carr 4. High for T & M was Broom with 24.

The Stars, officially representing Bay St. Louis this year for the first time, plan to

"There's No

Place Like Home"

by Dorothy O'Connor

Can't stand all that noise and quiet so here we are back at the old routine again.
Two planners and volunteers of a vacation home in comparison to your own friends and your comfortable crew with their endless planning for the holidays. I guess there is more truth than fiction in the old slogan, "There's no place like home."

Our pad, already bulging at the seams, is going to have to expand to accommodate some newly acquired treasures. We stumbled on a poor man's auction in Covington, Kentucky and consequently we were able to do a little trading and not just "shop around".
I'm now in the process of rearranging rooms and plunder trying desperately to make enough space for our Christmas tree.

I think we are getting to the substitution point and better we should hold an auction than stand ones.

We are also taking advantage of the nice weather to get our outside decorations up. I guess I got carried away collecting pine cones on the Gulf. I now have enough to decorate a city block. They blanch the area as my thrifty self believes in using material at hand.

While on the Gulf the hero of the small town led us to a spot called Bay St. Louis. It is located south of Highway 90 between New Orleans and Gulfport and is the percentage of two centuries known as the Gulf and old shop and visited with the owner and his previous Clowhouse. They encouraged us to stop at their small little diner and the old trip and will work the time consumed. It is the oldest structure on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and was established by a French settler and journalist by the name of Ludovic Adrien de Montluzin in 1878 to fulfill the need for medicine in the Community. The shop is now operated by Reno Jr., a grandson. The old world atmosphere is evident in the antique French shutters, round glass display counters, and frosted glass partition.

The gorgeous crystal glass apothecary jars once contained candy. They are now filled with roses and look as though they belong in a fireplace mantel somewhere. Although the aura of times past is prevalent throughout the present owner is very much in pace with modern needs. Due to the fact that it has been consistently maintained by the same family through the years a valuable collection of the original pharmaceutical equipment and medicine is on display. There are such things as a cork press, pill maker, and the ingredients for making Voodoo Charms. This was a common practice in the area years ago.

From there the old "Knee for Nove" led us to the home of the local newspaper. We were greeted cordially by the receptionist and introduced to "Jim" and "Ed." They in turn took us on the "Coke" tour.
They use off set and do all their own photography work.

It is the oldest and largest weekly paper in the county and they do an excellent job as we evidenced in the paper we were presented with. It is called "The Sea Coast Echo" and is edited by the nephew of Mr. Glass, a previous Senator from the State of Virginia.

While discussing the French Quarters of New Orleans with Eddie Englehorn, our host, we discovered used to be a "horn man" with an old Dixieland Jazz group on Bourbon Street.

I'm sure the friendliness and charm of the people of Bay St. Louis will long be remembered with a warm feeling by us. And if we are fortunate enough to make a return trip to the Southland it will certainly include a stopover at this cheery spot.

As we fast approach the yule season let's keep a relaxed mind in spite of all the hurry and bustle. So in closing I would like to say "May your angry thoughts walk hand in hand with compassion."

SECOND VICE PRESIDENT

Charles L. McCray, Jr., of Waveland, continues candidatetrator, General Electric, was elected second vice president of the Gulf Coast Council of Chambers of Commerce on Tuesday, Jan. 17, in Gulfport.

"A Conservative View"

by James J. Kilpatrick

Jacob Burckhardt, the great 19th century Swiss historian, long ago forecast the process by which the freedom of man would be regained in the supremacy of the state. Old caveat would be swept away, to presented by "terrible simplifiers" who would impose the people with catchwords and easy slogans. Tocqueville, and before him, Burke, warned the same warnings.

The prophetic return to mind on one reads the report of the American Bar Association's Committee on Electoral College Reform. The committee recommends that the present system of electing a President be scrapped altogether, in favor of direct popular election. Indiana's Senator Birch Bayh, chairman of the judiciary sub-committee on constitutional amendments, already has introduced a resolution that embodies the ABA committee's proposal. Fourteen co-sponsors have joined him.

Thus the terrible simplifiers appear in force. In the view of the ABA committee, the present method of electing a President is "archaic, undemocratic, complex, ambiguous, indirect and dangerous." It is out of time with "the prevailing philosophy of our people, one vote." These defects could be easily remedied by adopting a new system of direct, nationwide popular vote. In the committee's view, this is "the best of all possible methods."

Now, it is possible for a critic of the present system to agree with most of the committee's harsh indictment, and still to disagree with its recommended program of reform. The electoral college, as it now operates, ought indeed to be abolished. But the greatest defect in the present system is not in the naming of the surrogate electors; the greatest defect lies in the system of "winner take all," by which a State's entire electoral vote goes to the candidate who wins a majority of the popular vote.

The effect of this system, as the ABA committee rightly observed, is that millions of popular votes are simply nullified.
In 1932, Herbert Hoover received more than 15,700,000 popular votes, but 13,600,000 of them were not reflected in any electoral vote for him. Barry Goldwater, in 1964, polled 2,259,000 votes in New York—about 30 per cent of the total—but all of New York's 43 electoral votes went to Johnson in one monolithic block. The same thing was true in California, where 2,812,000 popular votes for Goldwater gained the Senator nothing. In every presidential election, in every State, the losing candidate suffers in this fashion.

This patent unfairness could be corrected, just as the ABA group says, by shifting to a plan of direct popular election. Yet the American people, before they embrace such a simple, democratic solution, should understand clearly what it involves. The plan would cripple a stunning blow at the whole great design of American federalism. Our basic scheme of government would be altered not at the edges, but at the heart.

Under the existing arrangement all persons born or naturalized in the United States are citizens not only of the United States but also "of the State wherein they reside." This State citizenship has meaning. Whenever we act politically, we act through the machinery of our States. This is the very essence of the federal system, devised by the wisest men who ever lived in this land, as a check and a balance against the evils of excessive centralism.

Under the plan advanced by the ABA committee, the Congress necessarily would have to fix national qualifications for the franchise. There would have to be one uniform age and residence requirement. The States would function only minimally. With the basic federal pattern thus altered, it would be only a matter of time before other barriers to centralism would topple to the account of the simplifiers. A constitutional structure that has served us well would be dismantled in the illusory name of "one man, one vote."

There is a better way. Almost every advantage that is claimed for a plan of direct popular election can be obtained through the "district plan" or the "proportional plan." Under either of these alternatives, the federal pattern would be maintained. The valuable concept of State citizenship would not be abandoned. The district plan would give a presidential candidate one electoral vote for each congressional district he carries, plus two for every State he carries; the proportional plan would divide each State's electoral vote in terms of the popular vote for each candidate. Either approach would eliminate the worst of the vice inherent in the system of winner take all.

Twice within the past 16 years, the Senate has decisively rejected resolutions proposing the popular election of President. Such resolutions were defeated 63-28 in 1950 and 69-13 in 1956. Times and attitudes change; new Jacobins emerge. Doubtless Senator Bayh's resolution, if it ever reaches the floor, would make a better showing. But conservatives will continue to hope that any plan of electoral reform that is finally submitted to the States will be intended to preserve the house of our fathers, and not to tear it down.

Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON - It's been carefully hushed up, but the United States appeared close to peace in Vietnam two weeks before Christmas—then an Air Force raid blew the world.
The Russians, at the urging of the State Dept., had been pressuring the North Vietnamese to negotiate, and North Vietnam appeared about ready to sit down at a truce table.
It was understood that bombing raids would be held up during the preliminary talks.

Just as the Soviet talks were progressing apparently favorably, our Air Force, on Dec. 13, dumped a big load of bombs on the suburbs of Hanoi. That blew the peace talks.

The State Dept., red-faced, explained to the Russians that this was not deliberate sabotage of their efforts, but a bombing mission which had been scheduled two or three weeks earlier and delayed by weather.

The Pentagon in Washington forgot to tell the commanders in the field to hold up raids while the talks were in progress.

Rusk the hawk

Secretary of State Rusk has turned out to be the biggest hawk inside the Johnson Cabinet.

During the hottest staff meeting since Rusk took over the State Dept., some staff members argued we must allow positive interest in any peace signal from Hanoi. This would permit the North Vietnamese leaders to take a step toward the truce table without losing face, all-important in the Orient.

But Secretary Rusk ruled out any face-saving. He maintained that North Vietnam must be defeated decisively in order to discourage future guerrilla wars. Our response to any peace hints, he ruled, should be coldly skeptical until North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have taken enough punishment to teach all communists a lesson.

Rusk won the argument—though he did agree that we shouldn't push the war on aggressively that it brings in Red China.

Soviet-U.S. treaty

President Johnson considers his most important foreign policy to be easing tensions between the communist countries of Europe and the West. He believes that if Russia and the United States can get along, these two powerful countries can prepare the peace.

To this end, Nicholas Katzenbach, the new Undersecretary of State, is quietly lobbying with key congressmen for approval of the Soviet-American consular treaty to increase the number of consulates in both countries.

For Chief J. Edgar Hoover blocked approval of the treaty last year. Now, however, in care of Katzenbach for making public the wide-scale wire tapping of the FBI. So cannot ratification of the consular treaty and approval of the president's most important foreign policy may still depend on a personal vestment over wire tapping.

Adam's Powellisms

Adam Clayton Powell is about the only congressman who doesn't address the President of the United States as "Mr.
President," he calls him "Baby." The other day Rep.
Wayne Hays of Ohio, chairman of the subcommittee that investigated Powell, was chewing the Harlem representative a complimentary newspaper editorial from Ohio which read, "Ohio needs Wayne Hays," "Ohio may need Wayne Hays," reiterated Powell, "but Adam doesn't."

Reagan the educator

While Gov. Ronald Reagan is cutting the budget of the University of California, another Republican governor has been trying to equal another California governor's record in helping education.

Nelson Rockefeller has embarked $5 new man college in New York, nearly as many as the 40 new colleges previously established by Gov. Brown in California.

Gov. Rockefeller knows, on $10 Gov. Brown, that when a boy in a dropout after he goes through grammar school, he'll cost only $120,000 during his entire life. If he continues through college, he'll cost $170,000.

So, while other governors are fighting against dropout, Gov. Reagan is requiring three-ones. A California youth using to pay $400 a year tuition now will save $300,000 over his lifetime in earnings for lack of a college education. Fur-

Bay Stars lead Kiln league

The Bay Stars won a crucial game Sunday in the Association Church Basketball League at Kiln, defeating Lizana, 59-56. The Kreck Stars, tied with Bay for the league lead, lost to Trapani's Kreck Kreck, 78-71, their second consecutive loss, and dropped to second place, the Bay Stars now holding the undisputed lead with an 8-1 record.

Larry Luke topped 23 points for the leaders followed by Devin Kennedy 19, Sammy Allison, 8, Wymen Carr 7 and Bruce Cox 2.

But the leaders may be in for trouble this Sunday when they meet Trapani boasting a 7-2 record. The Kreck play Lizana and figure to win handily.

thermore, a boy who can't go to college frequently is classified 1-A and ends up not in the classroom but on the firing line.

The University of California was founded because Abraham Lincoln established land grant colleges. It may have been his greatest emancipation proclamation.

It was a long, hard pull before these universities of the people, by the people, and for the people pulled up even with the rich, privately endowed ivy league colleges of the East. But in California they did. Yet 24 hours after taking office, Gov. Reagan cracked down on this hundred years of progress.

Thomas Jefferson, a liberal in his day, asked there be carved on his tomb not that he had been President of the United States but founder of the University of Virginia. That's how important he felt education to be.

Ronald Reagan, when he dies, may be known as the conservative governor who not only failed to conserve, but who wrecked one of California's greatest assets—the university education of its youth.

Student tax details told

Students who earned $400 or more during 1936 are required to file a federal income tax return, J.C. Martin, Jr., district director, Internal Revenue Dept., said Monday.

It is a student who earned less than $400 and whose income was withheld from wages by their employer should also file a return in order to obtain a refund.

Unmarried students who earn less than $400 will not owe any federal income tax. They are entitled to claim the usual $400 exemption plus a $400 minimum standard deduction.

KREWE OF 1935

Mrs. Lloyd J. Leiber, Jr., daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Leiber, of Bay St. Louis, was a member in the court of Krewe of 1935 when it presented its ball, The Wonderful World of Entertainment, last Friday in the New Orleans Municipal Auditorium.

"Students are entitled to claim their own personal exemption when filing a tax return. Parents who furnish more than one half the cost of support for their child, who is a full-time student, may also claim an exemption of their tax return unless the child is married and is filing a joint return with his or her spouse," Martin said.

Now find the agent who sold you the insurance

If you got your insurance through an independent agent, can be confident he'll be ready to help the moment he hears from you.

We are independent insurance agents. As such, we are not agents for any one company. We've built our business as policyholders. When you have a claim, we cut through red tape so that you get fast, fair payment.

When you need insurance for your home, car, or life, look for our Big "P" symbol. It's your guarantee of service at the call of duty. To display it, an insurance agent must meet professional standards designed to protect you.

Even the ash tray rides smoother in Chevrolets

When you're down at your dealer's trying out a new Chevrolet, be sure you pull out the ash tray. Notice how nice and easy it glides, never hanging up or even scraping. The reason is, it rides on ball bearings. Four shiny little ball bearings. (Take the tray all the way out and you'll see them.) Yes say you don't even smoke? Then look at it this way. That ash tray is a symbol of the way we make cars: Paying extra attention to the little things as well as the big ones, as a way of making extra sure your '67 Chevrolet gives you
